We Are

- 1st Infantry Division: America's most storied division, an expeditionary – modular division headquarters, with nine brigade-sized units assigned to Fort Riley and three additional installations. The Big Red One has a distinguished history of “firsts.” The proud history of the 1st Infantry Division shaped its legendary motto: “No Mission too Difficult, No Sacrifice too Great, Duty First.”

- Fort Riley: A historic frontier post, key to the westward expansion of the United States and for more than a century, served as a platform for the mobilization of forces for war. Fort Riley has modernized with some of the most advanced infrastructure in the Army today resulting from the dynamic growth incurred by the 2006 return of the 1st Infantry Division from Germany. Fort Riley has generated responsible regional growth as one of the largest economic engines in Kansas and practices environmental stewardship of the federal government's largest tract of tall grass prairie.

- At Home in the Heartland: 1st Infantry Division and Fort Riley are proud of the enduring partnership with the communities that comprise the Central Flint Hills Region. The region represents the heartland of America, with community values closely aligned with the Army Values; providing one of the best locations available for US military personnel to raise a Family. The welcoming nature of our neighbors in the Central Flint Hills links civilian and Army Families together in strong relationships.

History

Fort Riley, Kansas

Fort Riley's history stretches back more than 150 years, as the nation began to focus its attention on overland trails like the Oregon and Santa Fe, which were arteries of immigration and commerce. Selection of the fort's site occurred in the fall of 1852 and Soldiers began to garrison the post the following spring. Following the end of the Civil War, Fort Riley's mission changed to protect the workers building railroads from hostile Plains Indians. In 1866, the 7th Cavalry was organized at Fort Riley under the leadership of Lt. Col. George Armstrong Custer. During the next three decades, Soldiers used Fort Riley as a staging area for protecting the expanding frontier.

As a new century neared, the fort was selected as an important fixture in the Army's educational system. In 1892, the School of Cavalry and Light Artillery began operation, succeeded by the Mounted Service School in 1907, which was eventually renamed the Cavalry School following World War I. The school served as the center for the study and application of cavalry tactics and training. The principles learned by officers including Johnathan Wainwright, Terry Allen, George S. Patton Jr., and others would be put to use in future campaigns and on distant battlefields.

Fort Riley served as a training center during all of the major wars of the 20th century. Training centers were established at Camp Funston, and later, Camp Forsyth, where Soldiers learned skills that would be tested in the trenches of World War I and far-flung battlefields of World War II; the cold of Korea; the jungles of Vietnam; and the sands of Southwest Asia.

The 1st Infantry Division came to Fort Riley in 1955 from Germany and fought in Southeast Asia between 1965 and 1970. During the 1970s and 1980s, the fort's mission focused on Return of Forces to Germany rotations and the defense of Western Europe from Soviet aggression. The fort was an important mobilization and deployment point during operations Desert Shield and Desert Storm.

Following the end of the Cold War, the Department of Defense reduced its force structure and realigned its remaining forces. The 1st Infantry Division transferred its flag to Germany in 1996, leaving the 1st Brigade, 1st Infantry Division, 3rd Brigade of the 1st Armored Division and the 937th Engineer Group (Combat) at Fort Riley. In 1999, Fort Riley became the headquarters for the reactivated 24th Infantry Division (Mechanized).

The fort's utilization changed in 2006, with the return of the 1st Infantry Division to Fort Riley. Since that time, units assigned to Fort Riley have supported operations Iraqi and Enduring Freedom. From 2006 to 2009, the Fort Riley Training Mission provided pre-deployment training for an array of Military Transition Teams (MiTTs) deploying as advisors to Foreign Security Forces. Since 2003, Fort Riley has deployed nearly 60,445 Soldiers to Iraq, Afghanistan and the Horn of Africa. During the first decade of the new century, Fort Riley has witnessed a large physical transformation. From modernization of the airfield to new barracks, housing and work areas, the changes to the installation have prepared it for even greater utilization in the years ahead.

Vision

- Fort Riley is widely recognized as the Army's premier division-level installation.
- We will pursue this vision through four primary goal areas: ARFORGEN, Resilience, Sustainability, and Community. Each of these goal areas will have a series of actions and objective outcomes that move us forward. Through adherence to the ARFORGEN process, 1st Infantry Division brigades are requested by combatant commanders based on their ability to dominate throughout Full Spectrum Operations.
- Simultaneously, Fort Riley fosters Resilience within our Soldiers, Families, and Civilians during the demanding pace required in this period of multiple deployments. Fort Riley establishes a Sustainability posture that supports the focus areas of Mission, Community, and Environment while minimizing cost and employing systems thinking.
- Fort Riley is embraced by the Central Flint Hills Community as a key partner in generating regional growth. The 1st Infantry Division's story, combined with the appealing lifestyle of the Central Flint Hills, is shared with the Army and a national audience, forging an attractive 21st century reputation.

Unit Information

Fort Riley, Kansas (1 of 2)

In August 2006, Fort Riley welcomed the return of the 1st Infantry Division Headquarters from Germany. The modular division of today is vastly different from when the Big Red One left more than a decade ago. Modularity will build new brigades that are agile, lethal, self-sustaining and deployable. Modularity restructures the Army into brigade based “plug and play” units. Fort Riley’s central location means the Army can quickly deploy forces around the world. The Camp Funston rail head, nearby airports and the interstate highway system add to the installation’s strategic importance and capabilities. Nearly 70 percent of the installation has durable training ground. With a history of adaptability, Fort Riley remains a force multiplier for the U.S. Army and the nation.

Fish and Wildlife

Hunting and Fishing are major forms of recreation for the soldier, their dependents and the general public. Fort Riley typically supports approximately 7000 hunting trips annually. Soldiers and their dependents account for about 50 percent of these trips.

Fort Riley is a well-known destination for quail and deer hunters. Annually, more than 600 tags are issued for deer hunting. Fort Riley supports 125 to 150 free-ranging elk, the largest herd in the state and is the only place in the state where elk are hunted. Sales of hunting permits generate an average of $27,000 annually that is used to improve wildlife habitat on post.

Additional income to the Fish and Wildlife Account is derived from donations from private, non-profit conservation groups such as Quail Unlimited, Rocky Mountain Elk Foundation, Ducks Unlimited, National Wild Turkey Federation, Pheasants Forever and the Fort Riley Outdoorsman Group.

Fort Riley supports two of the 28 state designated trout fisheries in Kansas – Cameron Springs and Moon Lake. Those two water bodies receive the highest percentage of trout compared to any other trout stocking location in the state of Kansas. There are 29 managed ponds and lakes on Fort Riley that are actively managed for combinations of channel cat, bass and bluegill. Together, these Fort Riley fisheries support more than 15,000 fishing trips per year.

Mobilization and Reserve Support Branch

Fort Riley Mobilization and Reserve Support Branch (MRSB) serves as the installation support element and liaison between Reserve Component units mobilizing or training on Fort Riley. MRSB assists Active Component units assigned to Fort Riley in the coordination of joint operations and equipment requests between Active, US Army Reserve (USAR), and Army National Guard (ARNG) units. MRSB was created in Feb 09 by merging two former sections of DPTMS – Mobilization Branch and Reserve Component Support Division. MRSB now provides a “one stop shop” to all RC, to include ROTC units requiring mobilization and training support from Fort Riley. This simplifies coordination for Fort Riley staff sections and RC units and increases mission proficiency and employability while maintaining full utilization of Fort Riley’s resources as joint fighting force. MRSB also has the responsibility of managing and maintaining facilities on Camp Funston assigned by Directorate of Public Works (DPW) used to support RC mobilization/demobilization, RC training, and AC units as necessary to accomplish Fort Riley’s warfighting mission. For FY09, MRSB supported the close out of the FSF TT mission, Army National Guard (ARNG) and United States Army Reserve (USAR) training, and the Air Assault MTT hosted by 1st BCT. MRSB provided training assistance to 16,138 Reserve Component Soldiers from 26 states, including the Army National Guard, U. S. Army Reserve, Marine Reserves, Air Guard, Reserve Officer Training Corps (ROTC) and individuals attending military schools. While at Fort Riley they were billeted at the Camp Funston complex or in one of Fort Riley’s training areas.

The Camp Funston Reserve Component Training Complex consists of:

- Four Permanent billets with a total bed space of 1,340.
- 19 Tier 2 Relocatable Billets with a total bed space of 912
- 10 Tier 1 Relocatable Billet with a total bed space of 160.

Recycle Center

Recycling is a significant contributor to Fort Riley's sustainability efforts, one that has been underway for nearly 20 years. Our FY09 recycling efforts involved the replacement of equipment necessary to continue our recycling efforts for years to come. The primary sources of income for the Recycle center were affected by global economic conditions, as prices for several commodities were down. With a decrease in the number of large construction projects this Fiscal Year, the total volume of recycled material has decreased. Overall, the recycling of over 57 million pounds of waste represents a major diversion of material from landfills to productive use.
